

How to Reach Valjevo

Visitors can come to Serbia by air, rail or road.

1. By plane

If you travel by plane, you will land at Nikola Tesla Airport in Belgrade, the capital city of Serbia, which is about 100 km far from Valjevo. The airport is 18 km far from the centre of Belgrade.

There are frequent bus departures from the airport to the city centre as well as the main bus station. For further information about the ticket purchase for the transportation from the airport to the city centre, please click here:

https://beg.aero/eng/parking_access/transport/public_transportation

You can also take a taxi, at a price of around 15 euros, or hire a car to get to the city centre.

Once you get to the Belgrade Bus Station, there are frequent bus departures to Valjevo. The timetable is available at the following link:

<https://redvoznje.net/en/autobuske-linije/belgrade/valjevo/>

If you wish to take a taxi from Belgrade to Valjevo, please contact our International Office members, who will arrange airport pickup service for you with some of the taxi associations from Valjevo, including the driver waiting for you at the airport arrivals with a sign displaying your name. This service costs around 50 euros.

2. By train

If you decide to come to Serbia by train, we suggest getting to Belgrade Centre Railway Station - Prokop, from which you can continue your trip to Valjevo as there are frequent departures. For the timetable, please visit the following link: <https://beovoz.rs/?lng=en>

3. By car

If you travel by car, you can reach Valjevo using several routes. We suggest using Google Maps to get driving directions.